DISPATCHES, of which the following are Copies, were Yesterday received at the Office of the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, from Vice-Admiral Lord Hood and Lieutenant-General David Dundas.

Victory, St. Fiorenzo, Feb. 22, 1794.

SIR,

HAVING received repeated Information how much the French were straightened for Provisions in Corsica, I had, for a considerable Time past, kept Ships constantly cruising between Cape Corse and Calvi, and, after my leaving the Road of Toulon, I judged it more necessary to prevent Succours being thrown in as much as possible, my Mind being impressed with the Importance the Island must be of to the French, in the State the Ships and Arsenal of Toulon were, and that it was very much so to Great Britain, as it contained several Ports, and that of St. Fiorenzo a very good one, for the Reception of His Majesty's Fleet in this Part of the Mediterranean. I therefore determined to make an Attempt to drive the French out of it, so soon as I could get a sufficient Supply of Provisions and Wine, being in daily Expectation of the former from Gibraltar and the latter from Port Mahon and Alicant; and in the mean Time I signified to General Dundas my Intention of sending Lieutenant-Colonel Moore and Major Koehler to Corsica, and requested he would give them proper Instructions for informing themselves of General Paoli's real Situation and that of the French; and after they had been there a Week I received, in the Afternoon of the 23d of last Month, a very encouraging Report, and at the same Time certain Information that the French had actually embarked at Nice 8000 Troops which were, at all Risque, to push for the Island, under Convoy of Two Frigates, a Covette, Zebeck, and other Armed Vessels. That same Evening I detached Three more Frigates to the Senior Officer, the more effectually to line the Coast, and to guard Bastia also; at the same Time I ordered the Ardent and a Sloop off Villa Franca, and, in case he found the French Frigates there, Captain Sutton was directed to call to him the Diadem and other Cruizers from before Genoa, and cruize from Villa Franca to Antibes; but if he found the French Frigates sailed, he was to proceed, and join me off St. Fiorenzo, as I intended to put to Sea the next Morning. I could not, however, get away until the Afternoon, for Want of Wind. At Four o'Clock I weighed Anchor, accompanied by Sixty Sail of Ships and Vessels, including Army Victuallers, Horse Transports, and others, having 1800 unfortunate Toulonese on board, and the Victory and Princess Royal had 400 more. I gave the Convoy in Charge of the Gorgon, with Three Gun Boats to bring up the Rear. Just at Sun-set next Evening I was within Three Miles of Isle Roussa, where Lieutenant-Colonel Moore was waiting, but having no Frigate or Cutter with me, I was unable to send for him; but observing the Juno at some little Distance, I made her Captain's Signal, and directed him to stand in, and fetch the Colonel off in the Night, which he fortunately effected. Towards Day-Light it blew very strong, and before Ten o'Clock quite a Storm, which made it prudent for me to bear up for Porto Ferrara, which I had a fair Prospect of getting to before Night; but in the Afternoon, when we were within Five Leagues of Elba, the Weather was so extremely thick, that the Pilot declined the Charge of the Ship; consequently I was driven to Leeward of the Island, where I passed Three very disagreeable Nights, having had Two Main Topsails blown to Rags, and the Topsail Yard rendered totally unserviceable. However we got safe to Porto Ferrara on the 29th; and having got all the Ships set to rights, and sent for Bread and Wine from Leghorn, I put to Sea again on the 6th Instant: Commodore Linzee, with most of the Transports, got out the Evening before. On the 7th the Commodore, having the Direction of disembarking the Troops at the Time and in the Manner Lieutenant-General Dundas should desire, anchored in a Bay to the Westward of Mortella Point, with the several Ships and Transports under his Command. The Troops were mostly landed that Evening, and Possession taken of a Height which overlooks the Tower of Mortella. The next Day the General and Commodore being of Opinion that it it was adviſeable to attack the Tower from the Bay, the Fortitude and Juno were ordered againſt it, without making the leaſt Impreſſion by a continued Cannonade of Two Hours and a Half; and the former Ship being very much damaged by red-hot Shot, both hauled off. The Walls of the Tower were of a prodigious Thickneſs, and the Parapet, where there were Two Eighteen-Pounders, was lined with Baſs Junk Five Feet from the Walls, and filled up with Sand; and, although it was cannonaded from the Height for Two Days, within 150 Yards, and appeared in a very ſhattered State, the Enemy ſtill held out; but a few hot Shot ſetting Fire to the Baſs, made them call for Quarter. The Number of Men in the Tower were Thirty-three; only Two were wounded, and thoſe mortally.

On the 11th I was again forced from the Gulph by a ſtrong weſterly Gale, and took Shelter under Cape Corſe; and, upon the Wind abating, it fell at once calm, which prevented my Return off St. Fiorenzo until the Morning of the 17th. At Nine that Evening the Enemy's Works were ſtormed and taken, with inconſiderable Loſs on the Part of His Majeſty, but the French ſuffered much; and on the 19th in the Evening the empty Town of Fiorenzo was taken Poſſeſſion of, the Whole of the Garriſon having gone off towards Baſtia in the Two preceding Days. I herewith tranſmit you the Copy of a Letter from Commodore Linzee to me, and one from Captain Young to him, with the State of His Majeſty's Ship Fortitude under his Command; and an Account of the Killed and Wounded.

The cool and intrepid Conduct of Captain Young cannot be too much admired, or that of Captain Woodley of the Alcide, who, from having a correct Knowledge of the Bay, nobly offered his Service to place the Fortitude, which he did with the greateſt Judgment; and the handſome Teſtimony Captain Young bears of it, makes it unneceſſary for me to ſay a Word in his Praiſe; but I felt it very much my Duty to write Commodore Linzee the Letter I alſo herewith tranſmit a Copy of, as well as Copies of Letters the Commodore and I have been honoured with from Lieutenant-General Dundas, which will ſhew that Exertions were not wanting in the Officers and Seamen of His Majeſty's Navy.

I ſhould be wanting in Gratitude as well as Juſtice to Lieutenant-Colonel Moore and Major Koehler was I to omit acquainting you how much I feel myſelf indebted for their very great Zeal and Exertion in informing themſelves of the State of the Country in the Neighbourhood of Fornelli, and cannot help attributing much to both for our Succeſs. With reſpect to their Conduct in the Field, I leave Lieutenant-General Dundas to ſpeak of it, but I underſtand it has been highly meritorious, as has that of the Whole of the Troops. Captain Woodley will be the Bearer of this Letter, to whom I beg to refer you for ſuch Particulars as you wiſh to be informed of, as he is perfectly well acquainted with every Tranſaction from the Landing of the Troops to this Hour.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

HOOD.

The Right Hon. Henry Dundas.

Alcide, in the Bay to the Weſtward of Mortella, February 9, 1794.

MY LORD,

I Have the Honor to inform your Lordſhip, that it being the Opinion of Lieutenant-General Dundas, as well as my own, that an Attack, both by Sea and Land, ſhould be made as ſpeedily as poſſible on the Tower of Mortella, in order to ſecure the Anchorage in that Bay for His Majeſty's Ships, and to have eaſy Communication with the Troops on Shore, I immediately directed His Majeſty's Ships Fortitude and Juno for that Service. The Land Wind in the Morning was too faint for them to weigh; at One o'Clock P. M. the Sea Breeze came in, and they immediately got under Sail, and both Ships (with the Aſſiſtance of Captain Woodley, who, with great Zeal and Activity, voluntarily undertook to aſſiſt Captain Young in placing the Ships againſt the Tower, he having a very good Knowledge of the Bay, and which he executed with great Skill and Judgment) when a very ſevere and well-directed Fire was kept up by both Ships for Two Hours and a Half. Captain Young, whoſe cool, ſteady and gallant Conduct was very conſpicuous, deſerves the higheſt Encomiums, as by his Exertion the Flames, which at ſeveral Times broke out by the red hot Shot lodged in the Ship's Side, were extinguiſhed, which would otherwiſe have inevitably deſtroyed her: His Officers and Ship's Company have their Share of Merit on the Occaſion.

Captain Hood of the Juno, who fortunately received no Damage, did every Thing that his Situation could admit of, and conducted himſelf like an experienced and good Officer.

I herewith tranſmit, for your Lordſhip's Information, Captain Young's Report of the Damages ſuſtained on board the Fortitude; alſo the Report of the Carpenters who have been ordered to ſurvey her.

I have the Honor, &c.

ROBERT LINZEE.

Right Hon. Lord Hood.

SIR, Fortitude, Feb. 9, 1794.

IN Obedience to your Orders, I went Yeſterday in His Majeſty's Ship Fortitude, which I command, againſt the Tower of Mortella, where I remained Two Hours and a Half; when finding that neither the Fire of the Fortitude nor that of the Juno (who was extremely well placed to batter the Tower) had made any material Impreſſion; and the Main-Maſt of the Ship being much wounded, many of the Shrowds cut away, Three of the Lower Deck Guns diſmounted, ſeveral hot Shot in the Hull, and a great many Men blown up by the Exploſion of Powder from a Powder-Box that was ſtruck by a hot Shot; and being ſo near the Tower and the Rocks, that if the Wind ſhould die away it would be difficult, and if it ſhould change ſo as to blow on Shore it might be impoſſible, to get away, I thought it prudent to haul off. Soon after I had done ſo, the Ship was perceived to be on Fire from the Main Deck to the upper Part of the Quick Work on the Quarter Deck, occaſioned by a hot Shot that had lodged in the Side; but after cutting out the Shot, and opening the Side in different Places, the Fire was extinguiſhed without having done any material Damage.

I had infinite Pleaſure in obſerving, during the whole of the Action, the moſt cool, intrepid Courage in all the Officers and Men of the Fortitude; and I am particularly pleaſed to have this Opportunity of doing them Juſtice, by ſaying, that I do not think any Men could do their Duty better; and I have only to regret, with them, that their Exertions were not attended with better Succeſs.

And if Captain Woodley will allow me, I ſhall be happy alſo in having this Opportunity of thanking him for the very great Aſſiſtance I received in placing the Ship, from his Knowledge of the Place, and from the Coolneſs and Clearneſs with which he gave his Directions, as well as for the Advantages I reaped from his Skill and Preſence of Mind during the whole of the Action.

I incloſe a Report of the State of the Ship, and of the Killed and Wounded, and am,

SIR, &c.

WILLIAM YOUNG.

Commodore Robert Linzee.

Victory, off St. Fiorenzo, Feb. 9, 1794.

SIR,

I Have received your Letter of this Day's Date, accompanied by one from Captain Young to you, with an Account of the Fortitude's Defects, and of the Killed and Wounded in the Attack of Mortello Tower Yeſterday.

I deſire you will expreſs to Captain Young, and, through him, to his Officers and Ship's Company, the very high Satisfaction their cool and intrepid Conduct has given me, and requeſt they will accept my warmeſt Thanks. You will be pleaſed alſo to make my grateful Acknowledgments to Captain Woodley for placing the Fortitude with ſo much Judgment, as well as for the very able Aſſiſtance he gave to Captain Young: And I cannot omit to deſire you will ſignify to Captain Hood how much I was delighted to ſee the Juno ſo judiciouſly ſtationed; and I was no leſs ſo, in obſerving the Ships withdrawn in ſo Officer-like a Manner, for one would not have imagined that either had received the ſmalleſt Damage, which muſt clearly manifeſt the ſtricteſt Attention of the Officers and Men to the Orders of their Captains.

The General has made a further Demand for Sand Bags; you will therefore direct the reſpective Captains with you to have as many made as they can, out of any unſerviceable Sails they may have on board, and alſo ſupply any Planks they can ſpare for Platforms.

I am, &c.

HOOD.

Commodore Linzee.

Mortella Bay, February 8, 1794.

MY LORD,

I Now have the Honor to inform you, that after eſtabliſhing Batteries on the rocky Mountains that overlook the Enemy's Poſts at Fornelli, and, after a ſevere Cannonading for Two Days, which diſmounted Guns and greatly damaged his Works, we laſt Night, juſt at the Riſing of the Moon, made a combined Attack, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Moore. Our Loſs was moderate; that of the Enemy conſiderable. We were completely ſucceſsful; gained all the Heights and Poſts of Fornelli, and have thereby ſecured the undiſturbed Poſſeſſion of Mortella Bay, and of this Side of the Gulph of Fiorenzo.

Without the wonderful Efforts of the Officers and Men of Commodore Linzee's Squadron, we had no reaſonable Proſpect of Succeſs; and my beſt Acknowledgments are due to Captain Dickſon, Captain Cook, Captain Young, Captain Wolſeley, Captain Hood and Captain Woodley, and to all other Officers and Sailors who acted under them, and whoſe Zeal, Ability and Exertions I ſhall always with Gratitude recollect and acknowledge.

I am, &c.

DAVID DUNDAS.

Right Hon. Lord Hood, &c. &c. &c.

Mortello Bay, Feb. 18, 1794.

DEAR SIR,

I Beg Leave to congratulate you on the Succeſs with which our united Efforts were crowned laſt Night in the Attack on the Enemy's advanced and principal Work, and on the ſubſequent Evacuation of the Poſts of Fornelli, and the Retreat of the Enemy to Fiorenzo, which perfectly ſecures to us the undiſturbed Poſſeſſion of Mortello Bay.

Accept my warmeſt Acknowledgments for the effectual and unlimited Aid you have on every Occaſion given us. Without the wonderful Efforts of the Officers and Men under your Command, we had no reaſonable Proſpect of Succeſs; and I am to beg, through you, to offer my beſt Thanks to Captain Dickſon, Captain Cook, Captain Young, Captain Wolſeley, Captain Hood, and Captain Woodley, and to all the Officers and Sailors who acted under them, and whoſe Zeal, Ability and Exertion, I ſhall always, with Surprize and Gratitude, recollect and acknowledge.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

DAVID DUNDAS.

Commodore Linzee.

St. Fiorenzo, February 21, 1794.

SIR,

I Had the Honor of informing you from Porto Ferrara, on the 4th Inſtant, of our Intention to ſail for the Gulph of St. Fiorenzo in Corſica. The diſlodging of the French from Baſtia, St. Fiorenzo and Calvi, the Three principal Poſts they held in Corſica, and the attaining of ſo ſecure a Harbour as St. Fiorenzo for our own Fleet, appeared ſo important an Object, that although our Military Force was but ſmall, deficient in many of the moſt eſſential Points of Equipment, and the Seaſon of the Year was far from encouraging, I was induced to acquieſce in any Attempt that ſhould appear to promiſe the moſt diſtant Hopes of Succeſs. Two intelligent and experienced Officers were ſent to confer with General Paoli, to examine local Situations, and to report on the whole of Circumſtances, which they did favourably; the Fleet therefore ſailed from the Bay of Hieres (where we had lain ſince the 19th of December) on the 24th of January, and proceeded towards St. Fiorenzo; but the following Day a very violent Gale of Wind (which laſted for Three Days) diſperſed and endangered the Fleet, and obliged us, with great Difficulty, to gain Porto Ferrara, in the River Elba, where we remained ſome Days making Preparation.

On the 5th of February we again ſailed; but as the Three-Decked Ships were not ſo well qualified for theſe narrow Seas and dangerous Coaſts at this Seaſon Season of the Year, Commodore Linzee, with Three Ships of the Line and Two Frigates, was detached with the Troops in Tranſports, and on the 7th in the Morning we anchored in an open and expoſed Bay adjoining to that of Mortella, which we wiſhed to occupy, as it affords the beſt Anchorage in the Gulph of Fiorenzo. The ſame Evening the Troops were landed, conſiſting of the Second Battalion of the Royals, 11th, 25th, 30th, 50th, 51ſt and 69th Regiments, amounting to about 1400 Men bearing Arms.

As the Enemy, beſide the Town of Fiorenzo, poſſeſſed ſeveral Heights and Points, in order to command the Anchorage of the Weſt Side of the Gulph, it was neceſſary to diſlodge them, before the Squadron could anchor in Security; and theſe Points in Succeſſion, on entering the Gulph, were the Tower of Mortella, the Redoubt and Batteries of the Convention, and the Tower of Fornelli, with Two conſiderable Sea Batteries dependent upon it.

Expecting little Oppoſition from Mortella Tower, and truſting from Intelligence that we could approach near enough to that of Fornelli to attack it with light Artillery, Lieutenant-Colonel Moore was detached on the 8th with the Royal and 51ſt Regiments, a ſmall Howitzer and a Six Pounder, to effect this Purpoſe; but after a March of Seven or Eight Miles, through a rocky, deſert, and mountainous Country, deſtitute of Roads, and where the Artillery was carried by a Detachment of Sailors, under Captain Cook, he arrived on the Heights immediately above Fornelli, and then found that the Diſtance was too great to hope for any Effect from his Small Guns. The ſame Day we began from a commanding Height, within 150 Yards, to batter the Tower of Mortella; but it was not till the 10th, after the Attack made by the Fortitude and Juno, and after eſtabliſhing an Eighteen Pounder, Two Nine Pounders, and a Carronade againſt it, that we were enabled to reduce it, and take an Officer and Thirty-two Men Priſoners.

During this Time, having been enabled to examine the Mountains that ſkirted the Weſtern Part of the Gulph, and which overlooked the Enemy's Poſts, (particularly the principal one, the Redoubt of the Convention, which originally was, and by us was expected to be found, an open Battery, but which, by indefatigable Labour, they had now converted into a cloſe Work, mounted with Twenty-one Pieces of heavy Ordnance, and which, from intercepted Letters, they conſidered as the Key of the Whole, and of great Strength) it appeared, that if heavy Cannon could be eſtabliſhed on Points where the Enemy had deemed it impoſſible to place them, that their Works might be ruined, and then attacked to Advantage.

This Operation the Officers of the Navy chearfully undertook; and, by the moſt ſurprizing Exertions of Science and Labour from the 12th to the 16th, placed Four Eighteen-Pounders, a large Howitzer, and a Ten-Inch Mortar in Battery, on Ground elevated at leaſt 700 Feet above the Sea, and where every Difficulty of Aſcent and Surface had oppoſed the Undertaking.

On the 16th in the Morning we opened with Two Batteries of Three Pieces of Artillery each. One of theſe, at the Diſtance of 1000 Yards, enfiladed the Redoubt of the Convention, and the other, at the Diſtance of 800 Yards, took it in Reverſe. The Redoubt itſelf was of a long narrow Form, occupying the Summit of a detached Height, and about 250 Feet above the Sea.

Our Fire was heavy and unremitting during the 16th and 17th; and, notwithſtanding the Gallantry of the Enemy, both in ſerving their Guns and in repairing their Works, their Fire was nearly overpowered. On the Evening of the 17th a Fifth Eighteen-Pounder was brought up by the Seamen, and a Sixth was alſo placed on an advanced Point near the Shore, to prevent the Two French Frigates in the Bay from placing themſelves in a Situation to enfilade our propoſed Attack.

On the 17th, Meaſures having been concerted, the Second Battalion of the Royals, 25th, 50th, and 51ſt Regiments, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Moore, were deſtined for the Attempt, while the 11th, 30th, and 69th, remained in Reſerve. The Troops marched in Three Columns, and having nearly equal Diſtances to go over, moved at the ſame Hour, (Half paſt Eight o'Clock) in order to arrive at the Enemy's Works a little after the Riſing of the Moon. Lieutenant-Colonel Moore, on the Right, with the Second Battalion of the Royals, commanded by Captain M'Kenzie, and the 51ſt Regiment, came down on the advanced Point of the Redoubt; Lieutenant-Colonel Wauchope, with the 50th, advanced towards it's Center; and Captain Stewart, with the 25th, keeping cloſe to the Sea Shore, was directed to enter on the Left and moſt commanding Part of the Work.

Notwithſtanding the whole of the Ground over which the Troops marched was rocky, rough and covered with thick Myrtle Buſhes, they approached the Redoubt without the Enemy being certain of their Progreſs, and, under a very heavy Fire, they arrived nearly at the ſame Time at their Points, ruſhed into their Works, prevented more than Two or Three Diſcharges of Cannon being given, and, with their Bayonets, drove the Enemy down the ſteep Hill which formed the Rear of the Work.

The judicious Fire kept up from our Batteries by Captain Wilkes and Lieutenant Duncan, jun. of the Royal Artillery, till the very Moment of the Attack, facilitated much the Approach of the Troops; and a falſe Attack made by the Corſicans on Lieutenant-Colonel Moore's Right, ſerved alſo to engage and diſtract the Attention of the Enemy, who were not aware of the Extent of their Danger.

The Loſs of the Enemy on the 16th and 17th amount to upwards of 100 Men killed and wounded, and 10 Officers (amongſt whom was the Commandant) and 60 Men made Priſoners, out of 550 Men that occupied the Work.

The Conduct of Lieutenant-Colonel Moore, of the ſeveral Commanding Officers, and of all the Officers and Soldiers under his Orders, was firm and judicious, and merits every Commendation.

The Enemy being now reduced to their laſt Poſts on the Height of Fornelli, at about 400 Yards Diſtance, from which we were ſeparated by a ſtrong and deep Ravine, fearing that their Retreat would be cut off, abandoned them about Midnight, croſſed over to Fiorenzo, hauled off their Frigates, and left us in Poſſeſſion of the Tower and Batteries of Fornelli, againſt which we otherwiſe muſt have placed Cannon, and, in a Delay of Two or Three Days, probably have loſt a Number of Men.

On the 18th the Squadron anchored in perfect Security in Mortella Bay.

On the 19th, after taking Meaſures for the March of the Troops to the other Side of the Town, to cut off the Enemy's Communication with Baſtia, a Summons was ſent to Fiorenzo to ſurrender. In the Afternoon a negative Anſwer was received; but during the Day ſtrong Symptoms of a ſpeedy Evacuation were perceived.

One of the Frigates having been ſunk by our Shot, the other was ſet on Fire about Four in the Afternoon, when a Boat came off to announce that the Enemy had quitted the Town. It was immediately taken Poſſeſſion of.

On the 20th, by a Party ſent out, we found that the Enemy had evacuated ſeveral ſtrong Poſts with Cannon, which kept up their Communication with Baſtia, towards which Place they have retired as far as the Tower of Tichime, on a very high Mountain, half Way to that Place, under which the Road paſſes, and where they have Cannon.

In this Manner are we now Maſters of the Fortreſs and Gulph of Fiorenzo, which is the moſt important Station in Corſica; divides the French Poſts, affords a ſafe Harbour for a numerous Fleet, and, from it's commanding Situation, with reſpect to the Coaſt of France and Italy, is at this Moment of peculiar Importance. The Weather during the whole Time has been moſt remarkably propitious; had it been otherwiſe, we could not have accompliſhed our Undertaking.

The Perſeverance, Spirit and Gallantry of the Officers and Men of every Denomination merit the higheſt Praiſe. Unprovided as we are with many neceſſary Articles of Preparation, the Service, at this Seaſon of the Year, has been ſevere, but undergone with the greateſt Chearfulneſs and Good-Will. To Sir James S. Erſkine, and all the Officers of the Staff, I am much indebted.

On this Occaſion Succſs has crowned the joint Endeavors of the Britiſh Arms. From the Navy we have received the moſt effectual and eſſential Aſſiſtance; their Exertions have been wonderful and unparalleled. Commodore Linzee afforded us every Support, and to the Captains Dickſon, Young, Wolſeley, Hood, Woodley, and Cook, and to the Officers and Men who ſo zealouſly acted under their Command, we feel every Senſe of their efficacious Aid.

In the Courſe of the Service we have derived eſſential Aſſiſtance from the Corſicans aſſembled near us by General Paoli, to the Number of about 1200. They have occupied advanced Poſts, and covered our Flanks.

I have the Honor to incloſe Returns of the Killed and Wounded; (the Loſs has fallen chiefly on the brave Grenadiers and Light Infantry of the Royal and 51ſt Regiment, who were the firſt that entered the Enemy's Works,) and alſo Returns of the Ordnance and Stores taken in the Town and ſeveral Out-Poſts.

This Letter will be delivered by Captain Hiſlop, Deputy Adjutant-General; an Officer from whom I have received the moſt eſſential Aſſiſtance, and whom I humbly beg Leave to recommend as peculiarly deſerving of any Mark of the Royal Favor which His Majeſty may be graciouſly pleaſed to confer upon him. I have the Honor to remain, &c.

Admiralty-Office, March 15.

THE following is an Extract of a Letter, received on Thurſday laſt, from Commodore Ford, Commander in Chief of His Majeſty's Ships at Jamaica, to Mr. Stephens, dated Mole St. Nicholas, the 22d of January, 1794.

I Have the Honor to acquaint you, for the Information of the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, that the Pariſhes of Jean Rabel, St. Marc, Arcahaye and Boucaſſin, on the North, and Leogane on the South Side of the Bight, are in our Poſſeſſion, by Capitulation, and the Britiſh Flag flying therein; and, as our Poſt at Boucaſſin is within Twelve or Fourteen Miles of Port-au-Prince, I proceeded, without Loſs of Time, with the Squadron under my Command, to the Neighbourhood thereof, in order to give Countenance and Protection, according to the Exigency of the Caſe; and finding, on my Arrival there, that the Spaniards had taken Poſſeſſion of Borgne, Gonahives, Petite Rivierre and Verrette, I proceeded off Port-au-Prince, in order to induce a Capitulation to the King my Maſter; and accordingly ſent Captain Rowley of the Penelope, on the 2d Inſtant, with a Flag of Truce, to the Civil Commiſſary Santhonax, offering the ſame Capitulation which the Inhabitants of St. Marc had voluntarily accepted, but which he refuſed in toto. As I found that Intreaty had no Effect, I determined to eſtabliſh a Blockade, which has continued ever ſince, and not a Veſſel of any Deſcription entered.

Copenhagen, March 1.

On Wedneſday Evening, about Five o'Clock, a dreadful Fire broke out in the Royal Palace of Chriſtianſbourg, which communicating from the Hereditary Prince's Apartments, where it began, to the reſt of the Building, in the Space of Seven or Eight Hours reduced the Whole to a Heap of Aſhes. The Royal Family have happily eſcaped without Accident, but the greater Part of their valuable Effects have been a Prey to the Flames. It is not yet known what Number of Lives have been loſt, but it is to be hoped, conſidering the Rapidity of the Conflagration, which was increaſed by a very ſtrong Wind, that the Number is not great. This Palace, one of the moſt commodious and moſt ſumptuouſly furniſhed in Europe, was built in the Reign of Chriſtian the Sixth, and is ſaid to have coſt (in building only) conſiderably above a Million Sterling: It ſeems therefore not an exorbitant Calculation to ſuppoſe that, with the Loſs ſuſtained by the Hundreds of Individuals by whom it was inhabited, the whole Damage may amount to Two Millions Sterling. It is ſome Conſolation, in ſo great a Diſaſter, that the Royal Library, conſiſting of between Two and Three Hundred Thouſand Volumes, which ſtood detached from the principal Pile, has been fortunately ſaved. During the whole of this diſtreſsful Scene the Garriſon and the Citizens were under Arms, and every Effort was made, both by the Military and the Sailors, to prevent Diſorder and Pillage.

His Daniſh Majeſty is lodged for the preſent in an Apartment at Count Bernſtorff's, and the reſt of the Royal Family are diſperſed in different Quarters of the Town, where they will remain till Houſes proper for their Reception can be got ready.
